

David and Winkle Fulk Fellowship Summer 2025

The David and Winkle Fulk Fellowship was established in 2021 by Mary C. Rack, and provides doctoral students in the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources (AGNR) or those with an interest in mathematics education to receive a $5000 summer research fellowship.

Dr. David Fulk ('71 PhD, Animal Science) and Dr. Winifred "Winkle" Fulk ('70 PhD, Physiology) had strong ties to the University of Maryland, and its graduate programs. After their doctoral programs, they moved to Kansas where Dr. David Fulk had a long career at the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Dr. Winkle Fulk became a highly-respected mathematics faculty member at Johnson Community College.

Criteria for the Fulk Fellowship

Eligibility Information:

- Students must be enrolled at University of Maryland in a doctoral program within the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, or enrolled in a program that focuses on Mathematics Education.
- Students can be any stage of their program
- Preference is given to doctoral students who intend to pursue an academic teaching career at a community college or teaching-focused university/college.
- The Fulk Fellowship is designed to fully support students over the summer
 - Teaching assistants and administrative assistants will not be eligible to teach or work during the summer of the award
 - Research assistants who must be in the lab to do their project must be relieved of lab duties that are not related to their research
 - The Fulk Fellowship funding does not supplement a student's graduate assistantship stipend. The Fulk Fellowship funding replaces the student's stipend or salary.

Nomination packets must include:

1. Nomination cover sheet
2. A student written proposal stating (2-page maximum, double spaced, one-inch margins)
 - a) the nature of the work to be accomplished during the summer;
 - b) a plan for its execution;
 - c) a clear indication of how the summer project fits within the program's timetable for completing graduation requirements.

Please write for a lay audience and avoid jargon as much as possible.

3. The student's CV (2-page maximum)
4. Letter of support from the student's advisor. This letter should describe the accomplishments of the student. (2-page limit)
