UMD faculty, staff, and graduate assistants are in a unique position to recognize and demonstrate compassion for UMD students in distress. Students may feel alone, isolated, and even hopeless when faced with challenges in their academic and personal lives. These feelings can disrupt academic performance and lead to dysfunctional coping and other serious consequences.

You may be the first person to see something distressing in a student if you have frequent and prolonged contact with them. As members of the UMD community, it is important that we act with compassion.

Students exhibiting troubling behaviors in your presence are likely having difficulties in other areas of their lives, including the classroom, with roommates, with family, and even in social settings.

Trust your instincts and say something if a student leaves you feeling worried, alarmed, or threatened.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) permits communication about a student of concern in connection with a health and safety emergency. Observations of a student’s conduct or statements made by a student are not protected by FERPA. Appropriate consideration for student privacy should be given before information is shared with people other than those suggested in this folder, and questions about when such disclosure is appropriate can be answered by University Office of General Counsel. Faculty and graduate assistants are Responsible University Employees (see OCRSM.UMD.EDU).

Use the following chart to identify a student in distress. Look for groupings, frequency, duration and severity.

ACADEMIC
- Sudden decline in quality of work and grades
- Repeated absences
- Disorganized performance
- Multiple requests for extensions
- Overly demanding of faculty or staff time and attention
- Bizarre content in writings or presentations
- You find yourself providing more personal than academic support

PHYSICAL
- Marked changes in physical appearance (e.g., grooming hygiene, weight loss/gain)
- Excessive fatigue or sleep disturbance
- Intoxication, hangovers, or smelling of alcohol
- Disoriented or “out of it”
- Garbled, tangential, disconnected, or slurred speech
- Behavior is out of context or bizarre

PSYCHOLOGICAL
- Self-disclosure of personal distress (e.g., family or financial problems, grief, suicidal thoughts)
- Unusual or disproportionate emotional response to events
- Excessive tearfulness or panic reactions
- Irritability or unusual apathy
- Verbal abuse (e.g., taunting, badgering, intimidation)
- Concern from peers
- Delusions and paranoia

SAFETY RISK
- Unprovoked anger or hostility
- Physical violence (e.g., shoving, grabbing, assault, display of weapons)
- Implying or making threat to harm self or others
- Academic assignments dominated by themes of hopelessness, rage, worthlessness, isolation, despair, acting out, suicidal ideations, violent behaviors
- Stalking or harassing
RESPONSE PROTOCOL
Follow the chart to determine who to contact when faced with a distressed or distressing student.

Is the student a danger to self, or others, or does the student need immediate assistance for any reason?

YES
The student’s conduct is clearly and imminently reckless, disorderly, dangerous or threatening including self-harm behavior or having a weapon.

Call 911 or UMPD 301-405-3555
After speaking with police report the concern to:
BETA Team 301-314-2382 beta@umd.edu

I’M NOT SURE
The student shows signs of distress but I am unsure how serious it is. My interaction has left me feeling uneasy and/or concerned about the student.

During Business Hours
Call the Counseling Center for consultation at 301-314-7651
or GS Academic Counselor 301-405-3644
or BETA Team 301-314-2382 beta@umd.edu

NO
I am not concerned for the student’s immediate safety, but he/she is having significant academic and/or personal issues and could use some support.

Refer the student to an appropriate campus resource. (See options on the right.)
Walk student to Counseling Center

CONNECTING WITH THE STUDENT
• Clearly express your concerns, focusing on the behavior in nondisparaging terms.
• Allow the student to talk.
• Do not challenge or become argumentative with the student.
• Ask directly if the student wants to hurt him/herself or others.
• Respect the student’s privacy without making false promises of confidentiality.
• Document all incidents and attempts to resolve the situation.

PREPARING TO REACH OUT
• Know the available campus resources and the referral process.
• Review information on privacy rules.
• If safe, meet privately and always allow sufficient time to meet.
• Ensure your safety.
• If you decide not to have direct contact with the student, refer the incident to your college dean. Best if can have conversation with student.
• Contact UMPD if a student expresses a direct threat to self or others, or acts in a bizarre, highly irrational and disruptive way.

MAKING THE REFERRAL
• Recommend services and provide direct referrals; assist student in contacting resources.
• Frame any decision to seek and accept help as an intelligent choice.
• Make sure the student understands what actions are necessary.
• Be frank with the student about your limits (e.g., time, expertise).
• Encourage and assist the student to make and keep an appointment and set a follow-up meeting with the student.
